

Dr Joaquin Llacer MD PhD OBGYN

Dr Joaquin Llàcer graduated from the Valencia University in Spain in the field of Medicine and earned his PhD title at Miguel Hernandez University with extraordinary prize. He is Medical Director of Ginefiv-GeneraLife Clinics, Vice-Chair of the Spanish Fertility Society, Member of the National Commission for Assisted Human Reproduction in Spain, Member of the Scientific Committee of the Spanish Fertility Society, and Member of the Committee of National Representatives of ESHRE 2016-2019. He is also a member of ESHRE, ASRM, and SEF.

Dr Llàcer has published in the most recognized journals in assisted reproduction and pharmacogenomics. He is a reviewer in the most representative journals in assisted reproduction and a presenter in the most important conferences in reproductive medicine.

Dr Llàcer was awarded by American Society of Reproductive medicine, British Fertility Society, Spanish Fertility Society and Spanish Association for the Study of Reproductive Biology.